Chairman John Street said, and this particular project did have three bids. Meadows Construction and their bid was $1,814,042.60. White River Materials Inc. and their bid was $1,392,834.58. And then the low bid Crabtree & Son as we noted is $1,337,163.25.

Councilmember Ann Williams said, I have a question. Just refresh our memory or my memory. About what exactly... what area does this cover exactly? Chairman John Street said, Craig, would you come forward please sir. Engineering Director Craig Light approached the podium and said, the turn lane portion of the project will start at University Loop East and go a few hundred feet to the east just past the JTown Grill driveway. There's a problem with not having a turn lane there and some blind spots coming over the hill. Councilmember Ann Williams said, yeah, I think Chris Gibson has brought this up in the past as far as being particularly hazardous area. Director Craig Light said, the side path will start at North Caraway, and it'll extend east all the way to the Newman Center, the Catholic Newman Center. So, it'll be along the entire north side from North Caraway to east of A-States property. Councilmember Ann Williams said, and I just want to mention that the side... finishing the sidewalk there on Johnson, it's been a great thing, and it looks really good, and I know that was a challenging project. Director Craig Light said, yeah. Councilmember Ann Williams said, and I think everybody recognizes that wasn't easy to do, being on a slope like that. But that made a big difference as far as traversing that stretch to the light at the intersection of Marion Berry and Johnson there. So, that was greatly needed and appreciated now that it's done.
