my fence. He also said that BZA was not involved because it's R1. Does not apply. It's for commercial. This is Bill Clark. 910 Sycamore I did not read it that way. Very confusing

So, can I build a building in my back yard and let family live in it? Ha ha ha I would bet not.

How do you see it?

BZA is for all zoning. This does apply. Not sure what's going on here

28 1/4 inches from property line and on easements

You will have to wait until the new mayor takes office and hires a new chief of staff.

Water flowing under the garage door behind
Lawn Mower

Nice fence ~~did~~ not hide much P8
anyway

Fish remains washed against the fence. Would have been on my driveway if not for engineering.

smelled bad for a few weeks

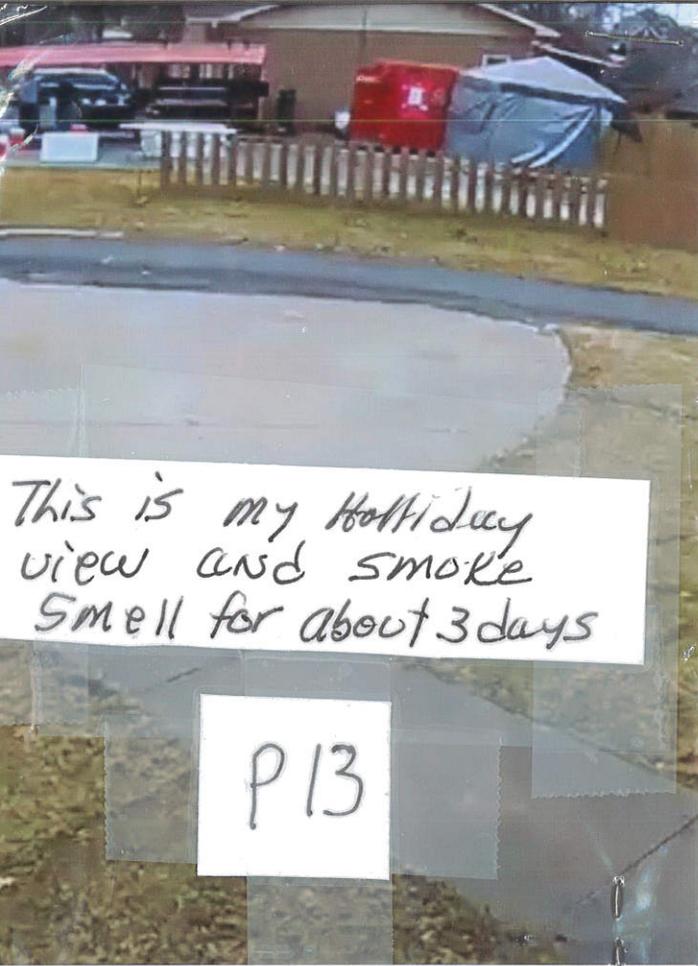

P11

Same here
Small rubber pellets

P12

Notice how he parks the trailer just in front of the fence so we can view it for a while

This is my Holiday view and smoke smell for about 3 days

Message one of us for your order.

The top picture shows what a 6' fence would hide 80½ feet long

This is another reason to extend the fence
and make it taller

P18 Again just outside of the fence
for the view

The last 5 pictures just show different ways
he has blocked the water flow. The 3rd picture is where i cleaned it out before a rain.
I think he wants it to appear what i did caused flooding.
