8. Rezoning

9. Staff Comments

STAFF: Derrel Smith stated that I hate tabling things; it makes it look like we are not looking at things. Part of that is the tight timeline we are on so I am going to come up with a proposal that we increase the timeline for submittals of subdivisions so they have to go through a staff preconception meeting first and make mandatory. Probably move out a month before a MAPC meeting maybe 6 weeks depending on how they fall, so by the time it gets to the pre-meeting you are already going to see all that in the plans. We are not going to have it to where you are going to be approving something with them having to make a change after you have already seen it. I will try to work on something next week and get it to all the Engineers.

COMMISSION: Dennis Zolper stated adding another step would that not be the final subdivision approval.

STAFF: Derrel Smith stated the Preliminary Plat has to be approved before they can start construction. The Final Plat is after everything is constructed and getting ready to sell lots.

COMMISSION: Dennis Zolper stated you are just making sure the final is “as built.”

STAFF: Derrel Smith stated we are making sure the Preliminary Plat is a set of construction plans before it gets to you.

STAFF: Michael Morris stated what has happened in the past is they were looking for the conceptual lot layout before they would go to construction plans. They would say if MAPC is ok with the lot layout, then we’d design the plans to go with it.

COMMISSION: Kevin Bailey stated at the pre-meeting we are going through a significant amount of design changes on subdivisions. We are taking the time to go through that when the developers and engineers haven’t embedded through greenspace, turnarounds, or streets not lining up, so I think it is a good idea.
