INTENDED USE/USER OF THE APPRAISAL

ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES

An environmental assessment of the subject property is beyond the scope of this report. Any reference to environmental issues indicates our research into the environmental aspects affecting the market and is not to be construed as an opinion regarding specific issues concerning the subject property unless otherwise noted in this report.

SCOPE OF WORK

The City of Jonesboro asked Bob Gibson & Associates to appraise the real estate located at 2916 Wood St in Jonesboro, Arkansas for the purpose of determining fair market value. This report is made for the use of the City of Jonesboro only and is being developed for the purpose of determining a market value for the subject property as of July 11, 2014 (date of inspection). Subject site and improvements (both interior/exterior) were physically inspected by this appraiser. When performing the inspection of this property, the appraiser visually observed areas that were readily accessible. The appraiser is not required to disturb or move anything that obstructs access or visibility. The inspection is not technically exhaustive. The inspection of subject site does not offer warranties or guarantees of any kind. Appraiser has researched/analyzed market data/trends in both the region and subject neighborhood. Appraiser has researched county records and MLS. He has also had discussions with local Realtors. All market data in this report has been verified by buyer, seller, broker, deed, title company, and/or leasing agent wherever possible. All approaches to value were considered in this report. This report summarizes the significant data found during research as well as appraiser's analysis of this data in support of establishing fair market value of subject property. The appraisal has accordingly been completed under those assumptions and limiting conditions that are contained in this report.

APPRAISAL DEFINITIONS

The following definitions are pertinent to this report.

Market Value

The most probable price which a property should bring in a competitive market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, the buyer and seller, each acting prudently, knowledgeably and assuming the price is not affected by undue stimulus. Implicit in this definition is consummation of a sale as of a specified date and passing of title from seller to buyer under conditions whereby:

- a. Buyer and seller are typically motivated;
- b. Both parties are well informed or well advised and each acting in what he considers his own best interest.
- c. A reasonable time is allowed for exposure in the open market;
- d. Payment is made in terms of cash in U.S. dollars or in terms of financial arrangements comparable thereto; and
- e. The price represents the normal consideration for the property sold unaffected by special or creative financing or sales concessions granted by anyone associated with the sale.

Market Value is synonymous with the legal term "fair market value."

JONESBORO AREA ANALYSIS

Jonesboro is the county seat of Craighead County and is the 5th largest city in Arkansas. Jonesboro has a population of 67,263 according to the 2010 census. Jonesboro is located in Craighead County, Northeast Arkansas. Memphis International Airport is only 1 hour to the southeast. Little Rock, the capital of Arkansas, is only about 2.5 hours southwest of Jonesboro. Jonesboro is serviced by two railroads and a regional airport.

Jonesboro has not experienced the degree of economic downturn that much of the rest of the country has recently experienced. It is one of the state's most dynamically developing centers, growing in areas of industry, retail and medicine. Jonesboro is also a hub of agricultural production (cotton, rice and soybean fields) and the home of Riceland Foods, the largest rice mill in the world. Several large industries support the growing community to include but not limited to Hytrol, Kraft Foods, Frito Lay, and Nestle. Jonesboro has a rich assortment of retail stores to include all major categories of merchandise at various price levels. The Mall at Turtle Creek was recently opened and offers 750,000 sf of retail shopping.

Jonesboro is serviced by 128 police officers and 98 firefighters. It is also home to Arkansas State University. Jonesboro offers many employment opportunities in industry, retail, medical, education, and agriculture. Jonesboro has over 3,200 businesses that may offer opportunities for employment, according to the number of business permits issued. Some of the major employers include St. Bernard's Medical Center, Arkansas State University, Wal-Mart Super Centers (2), and Hytrol. NEIGHBORHOOD ANALYSIS

A 'neighborhood', as defined in Real Estate Appraisal Terminology, Revised Edition, copyrighted 1984 is:

"A portion of a larger community, or an entire community, in which there is a homogenous grouping of inhabitants, buildings, or business enterprises. Inhabitants of a neighborhood usually have more than a casual community of interest. Neighborhood boundaries may consist of well defined natural or man made barriers or they may be more or less well defined by a distinct change in land use or in the character of the inhabitants."

The term 'neighborhood' as used in this report is defined as 'a group of complimentary land uses'. Social, economic, governmental and environmental forces influence property values in the vicinity of a subject property which in turn, directly affect the value of the subject property itself. Therefore, it is necessary to delineate the boundaries of the area of influence to conduct a thorough analysis. (From The Appraisal of Real Estate, 13th Edition, published by the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, 2008).

In smaller communities, the Area Analysis may conform to the first definition of a neighborhood; whereas the latter definition calls for a more refined analysis. For the purpose of this report, I have considered the Area Analysis synonymous with a Macro Neighborhood Analysis. The following analysis is considered a Micro Neighborhood Analysis.

Subject is located in the City of Jonesboro. The subject is bound by Hwy 63 Bypass (Joe N Martin Expy) to the north, Southwest Dr to the east and south and Covey Dr to the west. The subject's immediate area is a combination single family residential and commercial.

SITE DATA

Subject site is irregular shaped and contains 0.698 +/- acre or 30,405 +/- Sq Ft. Subject is gently sloping, street curb and gutters, street lights and has good access to Wood St.

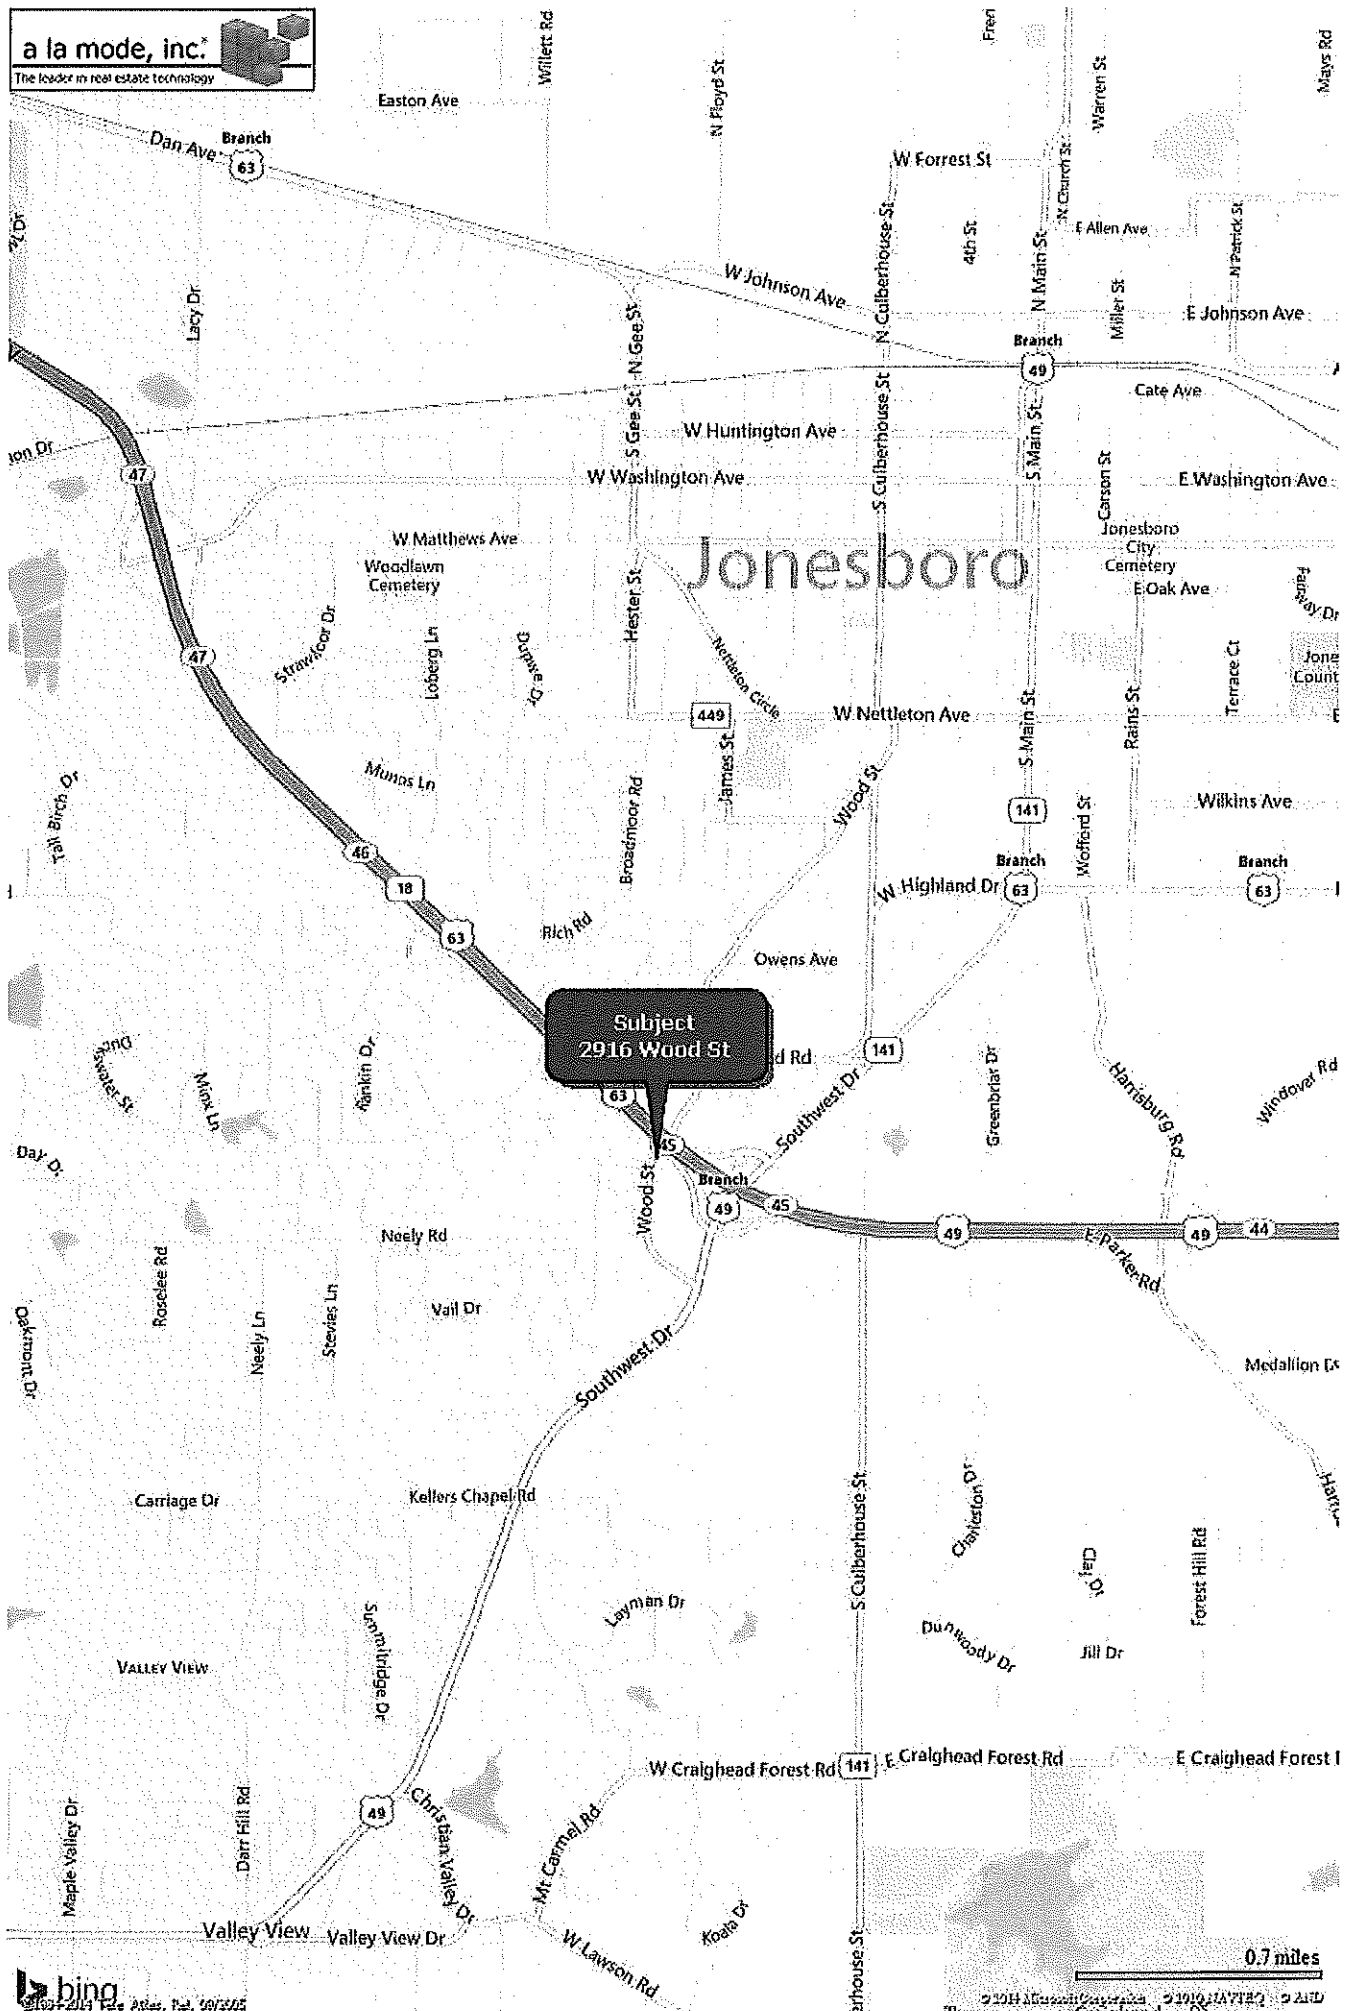

According to the Arkansas State Highway and Transportation Department, 7,700 cars travel on Parker Rd each day.

The exact soil and subsoil content of the subject site and the neighborhood are unknown and there have been no samples or analyses made available. Due to the condition of existing improvements in the neighborhood, there are apparently no atypical soil related construction problems that would make building prohibitive.

The subject is not situated in a HUD flood hazard area, according to flood map Community Number 05031C0131C, dated September 27, 1991, which is included in the addenda of the report.

Water, gas, electric, sewer, cable and telephone services are available to the site.

The subject is encumbered by various minor utility easements, none of which adversely affects overall site utility.

IMPROVEMENT DATA

Subject is improved with a 3,406 +/- Sq Ft brick building on concrete block construction. It is currently used as a fire station. Approximately 40 % of the building is a garage/shop area. It is only heated. It has concrete floors and two overhead doors. The remainder of the building has central heat and air and is finished into a living area, kitchen, sleeping quarters and bath areas. This could easily be divided into office space. The ceiling in this area is a drop ceiling with recessed lighting. Floors are a combination of concrete and vinyl tile. Windows are metal and the roof is composition shingles.

CONDITION AND FUNCTIONAL UTILITY

The subject improvements are in new condition and typical of other facilities of this type. The building has an effective age of approximately 21 years. Overall, the property appears to be in reasonably average condition for its age and is functional for its current use.

EXPOSURE AND MARKETING TIME ESTIMATES

A determination of a "reasonable" marketing period must recognize that real property is not generally a highly liquid asset. Marketing periods vary significantly with respect to property type, location and market conditions. Sales, offerings, options, and transactions involving properties having comparable marketability are considered. Information from multiple listing services, Realtors, lenders, owners, and investors is also considered. All data is considered in relationship to current national, regional, and local economic and development trends.

The improved sales indicated that exposure time (i.e. the length of time the subject property would have been exposed for sale in the market had it sold at the market value concluded in this analysis as of the date of this valuation) would have been about 12 months. The estimated marketing time (i.e. the amount of time it would probably take to sell the subject property if exposed in the market beginning on the date of this valuation) is estimated to be 12 months.

STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP

According to the Craighead County Tax Assessor's Office, the property has not had a change in ownership in the last 36 months.

SUBJECT PROPERTY OFFERING INFORMATION

According to the owner MLS, the subject property has not been offered for sale in the past year.

ITEMS OF PERSONAL NATURE

Items of personal nature were not included in the final value estimate.

HIGHEST AND BEST USE

Highest and Best Use, as used in this appraisal report, is defined as, "The reasonably probable and legal use of vacant land or an improved property, which is physically possible, appropriately supported, financially feasible, and that results in the highest value." (From The Appraisal of Real Estate 13th Edition, prepared by The American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers.) A basic economic principle applicable in the estimation of highest and best use is the principle of conformity. Again, quoting from the 13th Edition of The Appraisal of Real Estate, "Market forces create market value, so the analysis of market forces that have a bearing on the determination of highest and best use is crucial to the valuation process. When the purpose of an appraisal is to develop an opinion of market value, highest and best use analysis identifies the most profitable and competitive use to which the property can be put."

When determining the highest and best use of an unimproved site, it is necessary to determine the highest and best use of the site as if vacant and ready to be put to its highest and best use. This use has been determined with regard to what uses are physically possible, legally permissible, financially feasible, and maximally productive. In estimating (determining) the highest and best use, consideration is given to surrounding improvements, deed restrictions, the site's physical and legal constraints, location and trends in the neighborhood. Implied in these definitions is that the determination of highest and best use takes into account the contribution of a specific use to the community and community development goals as well as the benefits of that use to individual property owners.

An additional implication is that the determination of highest and best use results from the appraiser's judgment and analytical skill - that is, that the use determined from analysis represents an opinion, not a fact to be found. In appraisal practice, the concept of highest and best use represents the premise upon which value is based. (From The Appraisal of Real Estate, 13th Edition, published by the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, 2008). The highest and best use of the subject site as vacant will be analyzed based on the aforementioned criteria for determining highest and best use.

Highest and Best Use is defined as "that reasonable and probable use that will support the highest present value, as defined, as of the effective date of the appraisal. Alternatively that use, from among reasonable, probable and legal alternative uses, found to be physically possible, appropriately supported, financially feasible and which results in the highest land value."

The following tests must be passed in determining the highest and best use:

The use must be within the realm of probability; that is, it must be likely, not speculative or conjectural.

The use must be legal.

A demand must exist for such use.

The use must be profitable.

The use must be such as to return to the land, as well as the property on the whole, the highest net return.

Four stages are included in the analysis of highest and best use:

Physically Possible: determine the physically possible uses for the subject site.

Legally Permissible: determine which uses are legally permitted for the subject site.

Financially Feasible: determine which possible and permissible uses will produce a net return to the subject site.

Maximally productive: determine which use, among the feasible uses, is the most profitable use of the subject site.

The highest and best use of the land as if vacant and available for use may be different from the highest and best use of improved property. This is true when the improvements do not constitute an appropriate use. The existing use will continue unless and until land value in its highest and best use exceeds the sum value of the entire property in its existing use and the cost to remove the improvements.

Since the appraisal of the subject property is based on a particular premise of use, the highest and best use analysis determines just what this premise of use should be. A highest and best use analysis consists of considering the highest and best use of a property under two assumptions: (1) with a vacant and available site and (2) with the property as improved. These two assumptions on highest and best use are correlated into one final estimate of highest and best use.

AS VACANT AND AVAILABLE

The first major aspect of the highest and best use analysis is considering the property as if it were vacant and available for development. This assumption is made to determine whether the land alone is worth more than the existing property, as is. In other words, this is the beginning benchmark to compare with the highest and best use of the property as is, to determine whether the site is presently under-utilized.

POSSIBLE USE - The physical aspects of the land impose the first constraints on any possible use of the property. The appraised tract is an irregular tract consisting of 0.698 +/- acres. The site is gently sloping and above and at street grade and has good access to Wood St. Based on the physical aspects of the land parcel, a variety of land uses are possible.

PERMISSIBLE USE - The subject is zoned R-1. There are no known easements that would negatively affect the development of the tract. Therefore, under the R-1 zoning, a variety of residential uses would be permissible. Rezoning to commercial is highly recommended.

FEASIBLE USES - The demand for vacant land along Wood St and Parker Rd is stable since the neighborhood is mature, and few vacant sites remain unimproved. Development along this area consists of single family residential and commercial businesses. It is my opinion that development of the site for commercial use would provide a positive net return to the land and would, therefore, be considered feasible.

MOST PROFITABLE USE - In the final analysis, a determination must be made as to which feasible use is the highest and best use of the parcel as if vacant. Based on the current demand for commercial space, coupled with the limited number of potential sites with Parker frontage, my opinion is that if the site were vacant and available, the highest and best use would be for commercial development.

AS PRESENTLY IMPROVED

The appraised property is presently improved with a fire station. The present improvements were designed and constructed as a fire station; however, the layout of the building allows for various other uses. The present improvements make a substantial contribution to the total property in excess of the site. Therefore, no alternative legal use will economically justify removal of the existing improvements. The existing facility represents the highest and best use of the site.

CONCLUSION OF HIGHEST AND BEST VALUE

Based on the preceding analysis of the site as if it were vacant and available for development, and also as presently improved, it is my opinion that the highest and best use is as commercial.

APPRAISAL PROCESS

Appraisers commonly think of value in three different ways.

COST APPROACH TO VALUE - The current cost of reproducing or replacing a property less depreciation from all sources, that is, physical deterioration, functional and external obsolescence. This appraisal utilizes replacement costs derived from publications of Marshall and Swift Valuation Service. This cost data has been further verified as accurate by interviews with contractors involved in construction of similar facilities.

Although entrepreneurial profit is recognized as a residual cost, it is not included in the replacement cost new estimate. Rather, the reconciliation portion of the report attempts to identify any such profit through other approaches to value.

SALES COMPARISON APPROACH TO VALUE - The value indicated by recent sales of comparable properties in the marketplace.

INCOME CAPITALIZATION APPROACH TO VALUE - The value which the net earning power of the property will support based upon a capitalization of net operating income of the real estate.

In the majority of our assignments, the appraiser will utilize all three approaches. On occasion he may believe the value indication from one approach will be more significant than the other two, yet he will use all three as a check against each one and to test his own judgment.

There are appraisal problems in which all approaches cannot be applied. A value indication for vacant land cannot be obtained through the use of the cost approach, nor one for a specialized property by the sales comparison approach, and but rarely for an owner-occupied home by the income capitalization approach. The use of all three approaches is pertinent in the solution of most appraisal problems; their application is well established in appraisal technique and held to be part of the fundamental procedure.

In any determination of value, local market data is sought on such factor as sales and offerings of similar properties and tracts of vacant land, current prices for construction materials and labor, rentals of similar properties and their operation expenses, and current rates of return on investments and properties. From this data, values may be developed for the land and the property as a whole.

Three generally accepted methods may be used in the valuation of the fee simple interest on an improved property: the cost approach, the sales comparison approach, and the income approach.

The above sales reflect recent sales; as well as, older sales. More weight is given to the older sales because of location. It is my opinion, that if our subject site is rezoned to commercial, it would be worth approximately $6.00/Sq Ft.

$6.00/Sq Ft x 30,405 Sq Ft = $182,430 ROUNDED $182,000

COST APPROACH

In the cost approach to valuation, an estimate is made of the current cost of replacement of the improvements. This amount is then adjusted to reflect depreciation resulting from physical deterioration, wear and tear, and utility, on the basis of personal inspection and in comparison with component parts of similar new units. This analysis also recognizes factors of functional and economic obsolescence.

Functional obsolescence is a loss in value caused by factors inherent with a building equipment unit, such as changes in construction materials and techniques, which result in excess capital cost in existing facilities, lack of full use of space, and inability to expand or update the property. Economic obsolescence is caused by external factors, such as general economic conditions, availability of financing, or inharmonious uses.

The adjusted indicated cost is then added to the estimated market value of the land.

The estimated cost of replacement new of the building and land improvements is based on data in the Marshall and Swift Valuation Service, adjusted for costs prevailing in the Jonesboro area. Depreciation is based on the observed condition, with consideration given to age and economic life of the improvements and market conditions.

An analysis of the cost approach follows:

The income to investment properties consists primarily of rent. Different types of rent affect the quality of the income studied in the income capitalization approach to value. The five types of rent are contract rent, market rent, excess rent, percentage rent, and overage rent.

Contract Rent is the actual rental income specified in a lease. It is the rent agreed on by the landlord and the tenant and it may be higher, lower, or the same as market rent.

Market Rent is the rental income that a property would most probably command in the open market; it is indicated by the current rents paid and asked for comparable space as of the date of the appraisal. Market rent is sometimes referred to as economic rent.

Excess Rent is the amount by which contract rent exceeds market rent at the time of the appraisal. Excess rent is created by a lease that is favorable to the lessor and may reflect an advantageous location, unusual management, or a lease negotiated in a stronger rental market. Excess rent can be expected to continue for the remainder of the lease but, due to the higher risk associated with the receipt of excess rent, it is often calculated separately and capitalized at a higher rate.

Percentage Rent is rental income received in accordance with the terms of a percentage clause in a lease. Percentage rent is typically derived from retail store tenants on the basis of a certain percentage of their retail sales.

To a certain extent, the interest being appraised determines how rents are analyzed and estimated. The valuation of fee simple interests in income-producing real estate is based on the market rent the property is capable of generating. However, to value proposed projects without actual leases, properties leased at market rent, and owner-occupied properties, only market rent estimates are used in the income capitalization approach.

Subject is being compared to office rentals. Due to the current condition of our subject, it would lease for less than those surveyed. In my opinion, $7.00/Sq Ft is a fair market rent.

SALES COMPARISON APPROACH

In the Sales Comparison Approach to valuation, similar properties recently sold or offered for sale in the local market are analyzed and compared with the property being appraised. Adjustments are made for differences in such factors as time of the sale, location, size, type, age and condition of the improvement, and prospective use. This approach has its greatest value in appraisal situation involving common elements, such as land or improved properties within a particular development, all with similar amenities.

Two methods are utilized to arrive at a value by the sales comparison approach: the effective gross income multiplier and the price per square foot of net leaseable building area.

An effective gross income multiplier is usually not adjusted because the relative desirability in the market is presumable reflected in both the rental rate that the property can command and the selling price.

The price per square foot of net leaseable building area is calculated by dividing the sale price of the comparable by its net leaseable area. After all analysis has been converted, adjustments are made to the price per square foot of net leaseable area. This adjustment can include property rights conveyed, financing, conditions of sale, date of sale, location, and physical characteristics.

After comparing our subject to the above sales and considering the condition of our subject, in my opinion the subject value "As Is" would be approximately $70.00/Sq Ft.

$$$70.00/\text{Sq Ft} \times 3,406 \text{ Sq Ft} = $238,420 \quad \text{ROUNDED } $238,000$$

*With certain improvements and modifications at a cost of approximately $25.00 to $30.00 per Sq Ft, the subject would be valued in the $90.00 to $100.00/Sq Ft range.

CORRELATION AND FINAL VALUE CONCLUSION

This appraisal was made to express an opinion of the value of the fee simple interest in the real estate as if offered for sale on the open market. Application of the three appropriate appraisal methods resulted in the following indications of value:

LAND VALUE:	$182,000
COST APPROACH:	$351,000
SALES COMPARISON APPROACH:	$238,000
INCOME CAPITALIZATION APPROACH:	$238,000

The cost approach is most appropriate when the improvements are new or nearly new and represent the highest and best use of the land, or when the facilities are of a special-purpose or specialized-use nature. In other circumstances, the extent of depreciation dictated by the age and character of the improvements and the external influences of the current industrial market make a market estimate by this approach less reliable. Generally, the sales comparison and income capitalization approaches are better indicators of the value of a property in the open market since they more accurately reflect current market activity and the motives of buyers and sellers for use or for investment purposes. The stated value conclusion therefore is heavily weighted on the Sales Comparison Approach.

Based on the investigation and premise outlined, as of July 11, 2014, the Market Value of the fee simple interest in the real estate, assuming it to be offered for sale on the open market is $238,000 based on an estimated marketing (exposure) time of 12 months.

The Founding of Craighead County

Late in the year 1858, it had become apparent to many members of the Arkansas General Assembly that there needed to be further divisions of the existing large counties in order to govern and administer them better.

The main proponent of the move to establish another county in Northeast Arkansas was Sen. William A. Jones who was the representative from Poinsett and St. Francis Counties. Senator Thomas B. Craighead, however representing Crittenden and Mississippi counties, was stubbornly opposed to the idea since the proposed new county would include alluvial land, which had been providing a lucrative source of revenue to some of his constituents in Mississippi County.

Senator Jones introduced the bill calling for creation of a new county from land in Mississippi, Greene and Poinsett counties. Each time an attempt was made to move it up on the senate calendar Senator Craighead prevented it.

A master of political strategy, Jones waited until Craighead was absent from the senate chamber to call for a final vote on the measure.

With their leader gone, the opposing forces were unable to swing the vote in their favor, and the bill passed, much to the consternation of Craighead when he found out.

In a spirit of goodwill, however, Jones moved that the new county be named after the senator who had been most opposed to its creation. Thus, Craighead County came into being on February 19, 1859.

Soon afterwards, the county seat was named Jonesboro in honor of the legislator who had worked so successfully on behalf of the new county.

Excerpts from The Story of Craighead County by Charles A. Stuck

The Founding of Jonesboro

Soon after the creation of Craighead County on February 19, 1859 a location in the center of the county was sought for the new county seat, Jonesboro.

The actual site was selected after Fergus Snoddy offered to give 15 acres. J.N. Burk, County Surveyor chose the location of the plot because there was a sort of opening in the forest at that point. A site for the county courthouse was selected as the center of the town.

The choice for the location received some opposition from area hunters. It was one of the best deer crossings in this section of the country, during the winter thousands of ducks roosted in the swampy ground east of the present Water & Light plant, the banks of Lost Creek (a little north of that point) were excellent feeding grounds for wild turkey and bear had been killed there. It was felt to build a small and probably temporary town was to destroy, for all time, one of the good hunting grounds in the area.

Progress prevailed and the underbrush was cleared. The town site was laid out by surveyor Burk, creating a large center plot to be used for a courthouse. Ninety-two town lots were then laid out around the center plot. The fifteen acres were bounded by Monroe Avenue on the north, Church Street on the east, Jefferson Avenue on the south, and Madison Street on the west.

Jonesboro was first incorporated shortly after it was founded and Aden Lynch was elected the first Mayor, but interest in a formal government did not seem to appeal to the citizens. The first charter of incorporation was allowed to lapse. A second try was made and it also failed to interest the citizens. In 1882 with the prospects of a railroad coming through the town, a number of prominent citizens agreed that it should become an incorporated town with necessary instruments of government. The third charter was granted and M.A. Adair was elected Mayor in 1883.

Jonesboro is the 5th largest city in Arkansas and the 2nd largest in square miles. Form a triangle by connecting Little Rock, St. Louis, and Memphis, and you'll see Jonesboro stands out as the largest metropolitan city in what amounts to a 17,000 square-mile triangle area. The Jonesboro region is a proven leader in a number of categories attractive to business, including geography, favorable climate, viable economy, advantageous tax structure, affordable housing, low crime rate, growing medical community, opportunity for education, expanding retail and industrial community, recreational opportunities, cultural, sports and civic organizations, plus low utility costs. The Jonesboro MSA was recently recognized as 7th strongest in the nation for manufacturing.

There are more than 100 industrial plants or facilities in the Jonesboro area. The city includes not only attractive plant sites in four industrial parks, but also a high-quality transportation infrastructure. Jonesboro is served by two railroads; 42 trucking companies, and a regional airport which offers airline service to Dallas/Fort Worth. Memphis International Airport is only 1 hour away.

Industries located in Jonesboro find a highly productive, motivated work force, cooperative local officials, a favorable tax structure, and a central location. The Jonesboro Regional Chamber of Commerce, working with local businesses and professionals, and with local and state officials, comprise an active, effective industrial recruitment team. Their objectives are not limited to attracting new industries, but also include rendering vital help to existing industries. Such help may involve many aspects such as expansion, utilization of excess plant capacity, coordination of efforts to improve infrastructure serving plant sites and more.

Jonesboro's industrial community includes plants of major U.S. firms such as Nestlé, Butterball, L.L.C., Frito-Lay, Hytrol, Post Cereals, Riceland Foods, International Paper, Thomas & Betts, Great Dane Trailers, Quebecor World, Alberto - Culver, Nice-Pak, and Nordex.
