Mrs. Judy Furr addressed Council regarding Community Oriented Policing and Problem Solving. Several handouts were provided to Council and the following projects were discussed: Volunteers in Policing V.I.P.; National Night Out 2001; Cell Phone Patrols; Project 365; Healthy Aging Fair; Citizens Police Academy; and Monthly “Special” Events. Mrs. Furr gave credit for the success of the program to the many volunteers. In closing Mrs. Furr introduced Officer McDaniel, the C.O.P.P.S. Coordinator.

Mr. Robert W. Wilford, Executive Director for Crowley’s Ridge Development Council was next to address Council. Mr. Wilford informed Council of new construction for a fifty-bed substance rehabilitation facility, which will begin next month. He thanked Council for their past support, and requested they contact him should they have any questions.

The last person to address Council was Mr. Bill Ebbert. Mr. Ebbert congratulated the Council on their efforts regarding salary increases and stated he hoped they would do a survey quickly to see where employees rank relative to the rest of the state. He stated he hoped the salaries would be raised to the fifth in the state, and was bothered by how poorly employees salaries ranked compared to the leadership. Mr. Ebbert stated any citizen should have a right to speak and have the right to his/her opinion. He stated some people feel threats are a way to curtail differences of opinion, but he appreciated anyone’s view whether it agreed with his opinion or not. Mr. Ebbert explained he had warned Council several years ago that if not careful the City of Jonesboro was going to get some fines from state agencies, and mentioned a $9,500.00 fine charged to a city employee. Mr. Ebbert stated this was the kind of cost the city needs to stop, since Jonesboro has a full time architect and full time engineer. Mr. Ebbert stated it was the public’s money and was important how it was spent, and should not be used to pay fines for breaking state laws. Mr. Ebbert again stated the City of Jonesboro must justify the cost of copies for freedom of information requests. He stated he has requested a justification of Jonesboro’s publication costs, but has not received any such justification. He stated in his opinion the price is unreasonable. Lastly, Mr. Ebbert stated if there was anyone who wanted to debate the issue of city employees getting fair pay, he would be willing to debate, as long as he represented the city employees.

With no further business, the meeting was adjourned.
