Discussion was opened to the floor with Attorney Ben Williams speaking in opposition to the rezoning. Attorney Williams stated it was his understanding that that the rezoning was tabled and to be discussed before the MAPC. Mr. Brian Wadley, Planning Coordinator, explained before construction could begin on the property, a site plan would have to be submitted to the MAPC, and this particular site-plan was to include a left turn lane for Cole and Nettleton Streets. Mr. Wadley also explained the MAPC had granted variances for this piece of property, and that an Appeal had been filed regarding the matter. Councilman Vance stated that the rezoning would allow the property to be sold as commercial property, but before a building permit could be issued a site-plan would be required. Mr. Rees, who plans to purchase the property once it has been rezoned and approved for construction, stated he understood the site-plan had been approved, but the MAPC wanted a drainage plan. Mr. Wadley explained the site-plan is to include turning lanes, drainage, and side-walks, but to date a site-plan had not been presented. Mr. Rees listed several positive considerations for building a pick-up dry cleaners in this area including parking, and drainage. However, Attorney Williams stated drainage was not the main concern, but rather the considerable variances which had been granted to Mr. Rees. Councilman Hannah questioned the footage of the site and was told by Mr. Rees that of the fifty (50) feet, twenty (20) feet would be used for angle parking while the other thirty (30) feet would be used for a drive through, located north of the angel parking.
